Structure include many compartments of varying shape and levels, giving a sense of being "stacked". Site has an "ancient" or "antique" feel about it, but has modern elements & uses, though it seems less populated (even vacant) than usual. Site is somewhat isolated, in a ^{dry} perhaps desert area. ~~Structure~~ Inside is cool, outside warm. Subdued, pastel colors predominate, and there is a quiet, sparse, uncluttered feel about it. A sense of expansiveness is associated with the site in general. ~~Some~~ some similar subterranean ~~structures~~ ^{features} are closely associated with the site as well.

Concluding Statement

A place that tourists or the curious might visit, it seems almost to have an archaeo- or anthropological interest element, but recreational (perhaps) "meditation" [?] elements are important. ^{The site} ~~It~~ seems to provide a sort of "spiritual" renewal or connection for the people involved.
Has a very peaceful atmosphere.
